

Celebrate April, Poetry Month

with Judy Michaels

and Lois Marie Harrod

reading
with young poets from local schools

Sunday, April 23, 2017. 3 pm-4pm
Hopewell Branch of the Mercer County Library
245 Pennington-Titusville Rd
Pennington, NJ 08534

Poetry Reading followed by Book Sales and Light Refreshments (Profits support the library)

Free and Open to the Public
GPS: 40.327399, -74.801122 PHONE: 609-737-2610

Judy Rowe Michaels, former poet in residence at Princeton Day School, is a poet for the Dodge Foundation. She has 3 poetry collections (Reviewing the Skull, The Forest of Wild Hands, and most recently the chapbook Ghost Notes) and 3 books on teaching writing.

She gives talks on ovarian cancer to medical schools for Survivors Teaching Students.

Lois Marie Harrod, former high school teacher and current adjunct at TCNJ, is a poet for the Dodge Foundation. She has 16 poetry collections (6 books and 9 chapbooks). Read her online poetry at www.loismarieharrod.org.